

Amendments to the Specification:

Applicants submit herewith a substitute specification including a marked up copy showing the changes made from the original specification in this application and a clean copy. The substitute specification reflects amendments including an updated cross reference to a related application, a proposed new title for the invention and substantial amendments throughout specification to correct terminology identifying the bayonet connector components. The undersigned certifies that no new matter has been introduced into the substitute specification.